Then bunched them all together.

Along with enough bluster and threats for a flood a shower of rain fell on Thursday night of last week. It was only enough to settle the dust for two or three days and did not help crops a great deal.

The night marauders infesting Louisa have reached an alarming number of late and unless the trouble ceases it will be necessary to have a night police force. Almost every night lately a raid or an attempt has been made upon somebody's premises.

LOUISA AND HUNTINGTON.

A Victory to the Credit of Each.

The Louisa base ball club went to Huntington Wednesday and lost a game by a score of 10 to 1.
It was a very close game until the ninth inning, when Huntington made six runs (principally on errors) after two of their men were out. For several innings the score stood 3 and 2. Louisa was really entitled to the game but lost it through its own mistakes.

Will Phillips, who plays a great game at second base and who has never played elsewhere. In several seasons, played at short stop and was not very much at home.
Bromley played second base instead of third, but he did it well.
Homer Davidson played first base and did it so well that the loss of the game is charged to him by those who saw it. He is able to play well, but he certainly disposed of this game.

Wetzel did not play. Bob Phillips pitched this game, and with reasonably good support would have won even a better game than Huntington put up. Smith, of Fronton, pitched for Huntington and Blackwell, of the same place, played first base. Bromley and Thur Baker did the heaviest batting for Louisa.

LOUISA 12, HUNTINGTON 6.

Yesterday the two clubs went to Catlettsburg, where the Fair is in progress, and played, the score as shown above. Bob Phillips pitched in this game also and did magnificent work. His pitching is highly praised by those who witnessed it.
Bromley did not play on account of a slight injury received Tuesday before. Harris played one of his old time games, and in fact all the boys did well. Huntington's best pitcher, Taylor, was in the box.

The Louisa team will play at Huntington to-day and the Huntington club will come to Louisa for a game Saturday.

Bob Phillips and Bromley came home yesterday evening, but will be ready for the Saturday game.
Smith of Fronton, will pitch for Louisa to-day.

Leaf flour to $3.50 per barrel.

Standard brands of bottle beer

The Louisa base ball club had a game arranged with Huntington Monday, but a definite understanding was not reached in time to have them come. The date was then changed to Tuesday, but the club failed to show up. They asked Louisa to go to Huntington Wednesday and the boys went. The result is told elsewhere.

Fronton has asked for a game at this place and Ashland has written that they will return Louisa's games very soon. Mr. Sterling has offered our club $50 for a game at that place.

Irma, the bright little seven-year-old daughter of our groceryman, Mr. Wm. Remmele, has already given evidence as possessing a business qualification that would be a fortune to a boy.

Recently her father sold a calf which she had been raising as her property, and without much delay she communicated with him through the postoffice as follows:

Louisa Ky.,
August 1.

one calf $1.00

trouble.

In order to raise the amount at once Mr. Remmele has made numerous of prices on flour.

flour at Vaughan's for $3.20.

Little Duke is the best flour in market. Remmele sells it.

$40,000 FOR THE DAM.

Our Appropriation Rides Through Congress.

Our people were much elated when the addition of $12,000 was made by the Senate to the appropriation for the lock and dam at this place, but the fear that the increase might be cut off by the committee caused some anxiety. The suspense was ended Monday by the river and harbor bill finally passing both houses of Congress with our increase sticking to it. A vote of 100 yeas to 60 nays was recorded. It is expected that work on the dam will begin about the 20th inst., with a large force of men.

Our Representatives have done faithful work in this instance and our people are very grateful to them.

With reasonably favorable weather the foundation of the dam will be completed this year, ready for filling the dam proper.

LATER:—It is not entirely certain that the President will sign the river and harbor bill. If he finds any evidence of jobbery in any of the items he will not sign it.

Improbable.
It is stated that Rifle, the Lawrence county murderer is now in Morgan County, and it is expected that his capture is not very far removed. Rifle is pursued by friends of his victim and if captured by them may never have a trial.—Ashland News.

sisted by G. M. Elam and G. W.
Chapman.

The Standard Interior Journal gives the following account of their factory:

"The canning factory, with a capacity of 2,000 cans a day, is now complete, and Superintendent William Chesterfield, who was here Friday, tells us that it will employ 125 hands, ninety women forty-five men, whose pay will average $1.50 daily. The company has 287 acres of land from which a yield of 80,000 bushels is expected. The crops are heavy and is ripening well. The price established is 20 cents a bushel of 60 pounds, and a great many farmers in this section have turned their attention to raising them. An acre will yield 250 bushels, which will bring $50, a much better amount than can be gotten from wheat or corn. The establishment will prove a blessing to the people of this section."

Viehor flour $3.35 per barrel at Vaughan's.

As to Gates.

[Affectionately inscribed to it, G. C.]

With aspirations strong and pure We read of peoply "Gates A-Jar"; And hope when ends life's fitful dream For as they'll have no blundering bar.

We read in Moore's sweet Lalla Rookh Where Peril stood at Heaven's gate, And wept to think her reckless race Should e'er have lost that happy state.

And there's the "gate" the gray ions pass—
Ah, swift and sure her old feet fly; From month to month of Sandy's stream She carries me through wet and dry.

But Heaven's gates and gates ajar For me have lost their zest of late, I only ask that, live or die, Mine eyes may rest on Applegate.

We found the above lines in a well-written patch on Madison street a few days ago.
